

נחמיה ¶ NEHEMIAH

The books of Ezra and Nehemiah form one book in the Hebrew Scriptures; for a fuller introduction, see the Introduction to Ezra.

In addition to the canonical books of Ezra and Nehemiah, there are two deuterocanonical books that are also called ‘Ezra’. Exactly how these books are designated varies in ancient literature; in the Septuagint (LXX), canonical Ezra is called Second Esdras but, in the Vulgate, it is called First Esdras; our Nehemiah is called Third Esdras in some manuscripts of the LXX but it is known as Second Esdras in the Vulgate. (In the earliest LXX manuscripts, Ezra and Nehemiah were regarded as one book, as they are in most Hebrew MSS). The deuterocanonical books of Ezra are called First and Fourth Esdras in the LXX, but Third and Fourth Esdras in the Vulgate. The titles for the so-called ‘books of Ezra’ are thus rather confusing, a fact that one must keep in mind when consulting this material; the table below should help to clarify matters.

NEHEMIAH 1

¹ The words of Nehemiah son of Hacaliah:

It happened in the month of Chislev, in the twentieth year, while I was in the citadel of Susa, ² that Hanani, one of my brothers, arrived with some men from Judah. I asked them about the Jews – those who had escaped and those who had survived from the captivity – and about Jerusalem. ³ They replied, “The survivors, remaining there in the province since the captivity, are in a very bad a demoralised condition: the walls of Jerusalem are in ruins and its gates have been burnt down.”

⁴ On hearing this, I sat down and wept; for some days, I mourned, fasting and praying before the God of Heaven.

NEHEMIAH 1

¹ The “Memoirs of Nehemiah” begin here. Nehemiah (נְחֵמְיָה – ‘Yahweh Comforts’) was a palace servant at Susa in Elam, winter residence of the Persian kings (Est 1:2, 5, Dn 8:2). The ‘twentieth year’ refers to the reign of Artaxerxes I (464–423 BCE) i.e. December 445; the date here is problematic, as it is later than that given in 2:1; perhaps it should be the nineteenth year.

² The people are the faithful, back from the Exile and now centred round Jerusalem (see #Ezr 1:4, 6:16 and #Is 4:3).

⁴ The prayer of Nehemiah owes much to Deuteronomy (compare 9:3–5, Ezr 10:6).

⁵ The Hebrew verb שָׁמַר (‘observe’ or ‘keep’) is often used as an idiom that means ‘obey’ the commandments of God (e.g. Ex 20:6, Dt 5:16, 23:24, 29:8, Jg 2:22, 1K 2:43, 11:11, Ps 119:8, 17, 34, Jr 35:18, Ezk 17:14, Am 2:4).

⁶ Nehemiah makes confession for the people, just as Ezra does.

to hear your servant's prayer that I now offer to you day and night for your servants the sons of Israel. I admit the sins of the sons of Israel, which we have committed against you. Both I and my father's House have sinned; ⁷ we have acted very wickedly towards you by failing to keep the commandments, laws, and rulings that you enjoined on your servant Moses. ⁸ Please remember the promise that you solemnly made to your servant Moses, "If you are unfaithful, I shall scatter you among the peoples; ⁹ but if you come back to me and keep my commandments and practice them, even though those who have been banished are at the very sky's end, I shall gather them from there and bring them back to the place that I have chosen as a dwelling-place for my name." ¹⁰ Since they are your servants, your people, whom you have redeemed with your mighty power and strong hand, ¹¹ O Lord, let your ear now be attentive to your servant's prayer and to the prayer of your servants who want to revere your name. I beg you, let your servant be successful today and win this man's compassion." At the time, I was cupbearer to the king.

⁷ In place of 'acted very wickedly towards you', here following the NJB, the NRSV has 'offended you deeply'.

⁸ NETB has 'nations' in place of 'peoples', here following the MT, NJB & NRSV.

⁹ The literal translation of 'the very sky's end' is 'the end of the heavens'. The Kethib/Qere difference here (possible vav/yod confusion) warrants an explanation.

¹⁰ Before 'your people', the NRSV adds the conjunction 'and'; here, we follow the NJB.

¹ In the month of Nisan, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was served to him, I took the wine and gave it to the king. Now, I had never been sad in his presence. ² So, the king said to me, "Why are you looking depressed? You are not sick! This must be a sadness of the heart." I was very afraid ³ and said to the king, "May the king live for ever! How can I not look depressed when the city where the tombs of my ancestors are lies in ruins and its gates have been burnt down?"

⁴ The king then said to me, "What would you like me to do?" Praying to the God of Heaven, ⁵ I said to the king, "If it pleases the king and your servant enjoys your favour, send me to Judah, to the city of the tombs of my ancestors, so that I can rebuild it." ⁶ The king – with the queen sitting beside him – said to me, "How long will your journey take, and when will you come back?" Once I had given him a definite time, the king was amenable to my mission. ⁷ I then said to the king, "If the king approves, may I be given letters for the governors of Transeuphrates to let me pass

- ¹ The episode takes place in March–April 445 BCE; some three months had gone by since the arrival of Hanani. The NJB uses the conjectural 'before' in place of 'in his presence'; the NRSV has both.
- ² The NRSV opens this verse, here following the NJB, with, "So the king said to me, 'Why is your face sad, since you are not sick?'"
- ³ The literal translation of 'have been burnt down' (here following the NJB) is 'eaten by fire' (as also in v. 13).
- ⁴ For the king's question, here following the NJB, the NRSV reads, "What do you request?"
- ⁵ 'Tombs' was a polite understatement, for his plan was to restore the walls (vv. 8, 12–15).
- ⁶ In place of 'queen', here following the NJB & NRSV, NETB has 'consort'.
- ⁷ A more literal translation of 'Transeuphrates' (as NJB) is 'the Province beyond the River' (as NRSV).

through on my way to Judah? ⁸ Also, a letter for Asaph, the keeper of the king's forest, directing him to supply me with timber for the beams of the gates of the citadel of the Temple, for the city wall and for the house that I am to occupy?" These, the king granted me because the kindly hand of my God was over me. ⁹ When I reached the governors of Transeuphrates, I gave them the king's orders. The king had sent an escort of army officers and cavalry along with me.

¹¹ Thus, I reached Jerusalem. After I had been there three days, ¹² then I got up during the night. I and a few other men with me – I had not told anyone what my God had inspired me to do for Jerusalem – taking no animal with me but the animal I was riding. ¹³ Under cover of dark, I went out through the Valley Gate towards the Dragon's Fountain as far as the Dung Gate and was examining the walls of Jerusalem that were

⁹ An alternative reading for 'cavalry' (as NJB & NRSV) is 'horsemen' (as NETB).

¹¹ Vv. 11-16 describe a secret inspection of the ruined walls by night, making a circuit of the city, beginning and ending at the Valley Gate.

¹² In place of 'the animal I was riding' (here following the MT & NRSV), the NJB has 'my own mount'.

¹³ The Kethib/Qere difference here warrants an explanation. In place of 'examining', the LXX has 'breaking' (συντρίβων), mistakenly reading שֶׁבֶר for שֶׁבֶר.

broken down and its gates that had been consumed by fire. ¹⁴ I then crossed to the Fountain Gate and the King's Pool, but it was impassable to the animal I was riding. ¹⁵ Therefore, I went up the Valley in the dark, examining the wall; I then went in again through the Valley Gate, coming back ¹⁶ without the officials knowing where I had gone or what I had been doing. So far, I had said nothing to the Jews: neither to the priests, the nobles, the officials nor any other persons involved in the undertaking.

¹⁷ I then said to them, "You see what trouble we are in: Jerusalem is in ruins and its gates have been burnt down. Come on, we must rebuild the walls of Jerusalem and put an end to our humiliating position! ¹⁸ I told them how the kindly hand of my God had been over me, and the words that the king had said to me. At this they said, "Let us start building at once!" And they set their hands to the good work.

 Geshem the Arab heard about this, they laughed at us and jeered. They said, "What is this you are doing? Are you going to revolt against the ¹⁴ NETB has 'Gate of the Well' in place of 'Fountain Gate', here following the NJB & NRSV.

¹⁵ The 'Valley' is the Kidron Valley.

¹⁶ The NRSV ends this verse, here following the NJB, with, "and the rest that were to do the work."

¹⁷ In place of 'trouble', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'a sorry state'.

¹⁸ The literal translation for 'set their hands' is 'strengthened their hands'.

NEHEMIAH 3

- ¹ After 'Tower of the Hundred', the MT adds 'they sanctified it' (קִדְּשׁוּהוּ); this term is repeated from the first part of the verse, probably as an intentional scribal addition to harmonise this statement with the preceding parallel statement. The NJB has the conjectural 'they made the framework' in place of 'they sanctified it'.
- ² The MT has 'him' in place of 'them'.
- ³ The NJB has 'Ha-Senaah' in place of 'Hassenaah', here following the NRSV & NETB (note the 'doubling dot' in הַסְנַאָה).
- ⁴ Throughout vv. 4-5, NETB has 'adjacent' in place of 'next', here following the NJB & NRSV.
- ⁵ The 'masters' were Nehemiah and his colleagues; the NRSV has 'Lord' (NETB suggests that the form אֲדֹנֵיהֶם may be a 'plural of majesty').
- ⁶ In place of 'Old Gate', the NJB, following the Peshitta, has 'gate of the New Quarter'. In 12:39, the gate is called the 'Gate of Ephraim'.

- 7 Next to them, Melatiah of Gibeon, Jadon of Meronoth, and the men of Gibeon and Mizpah carried out repairs, for the sake of the governor of Transeuphrates.
- 8 Next to them, Uzziel son of Harhaiah, a goldsmith, made repairs. And next to him, Hananiah of the perfumers' made repairs. These renovated the wall of Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.
- 9 Next to them, Rephaiah son of Hur, head of one half of the district of Jerusalem, carried out repairs.
- 10 Next to them, Jedaiah son of Harumaph made repairs near his house. And, next to him, Hattush son of Hashabneiah made repairs.
- 11 Malchijah son of Harim and Hasshub son of Pahath-Moab repaired another section and the Furnace Tower.
- 12 Next to them, Shallum son of Hallobesh, head of the other half of the district of Jerusalem, made repairs, he and his daughters.

7 In place of 'for the sake of', the NRSV has 'who were under the jurisdiction of'; the meaning of the Hebrew is uncertain.

8 In place of 'a member of the metalworkers' guild', the NRSV has 'one of the goldsmiths'. Assuming that the MT reading וַיַּעֲזְבוּ ('renovated') is related to the root עזב ('to abandon') – which makes little sense contextually – some interpreters emend the MT to וַיַּעֲזְרוּ ('they aided'); however, it is better to relate this term to the root meaning 'to restore'/'to repair' or 'to plaster' (as NETB). This homonymic root is rare, appearing elsewhere only in Ex 23:5 & Job 9:27, where it means 'to put in order'. Some scholars in the 19th Century suggested that this term be nuanced 'paved'; however, most modern translators favour 'repaired', 'restored' (as NRSV) or, as here (following the NJB), 'renovated'.

9 An alternative translation for 'head of half the district of' is 'supervisor of half the portion assigned to'.

10 The translation reads נִגַּד ('near') with a few medieval Hebrew MSS, some LXX MSS, the Peshitta & Vg, rather than וַנִּגַּד ('and near') of the MT.

11 An alternative translation for 'Furnace Tower' (see 2Ch 26:9) is 'Angle Tower'; the NRSV has 'Tower of the Ovens'.

12 The NJB conjecturally replaces 'daughters' with 'sons': the reference to daughters, while not impossible, is odd in light of the cultural improbability that young women would participate in the strenuous labour of rebuilding city walls; all other such references in the Book of Nehemiah presuppose male labourers. Not surprisingly, some scholars suspect a textual problem; one medieval Hebrew MS and the Peshitta

¹³ Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate; they rebuilt it, hung its doors, and fixed its bolts and its bars; they also repaired a thousand cubits of wall up to the Dung Gate. ¹⁴ Malchijah son of Rechab, supervisor of the portion assigned to Beth-ha-Cherem, repaired the Dung Gate; he rebuilt it, hung its doors, and fixed its bolts and its bars.

¹⁷ After him, the Levites made repairs: Rehum son of Bani; and next to him Hashabiah, head of one half of the district of Keilah, for his district.

read 'and his sons' rather than the MT reading וּבְנוֹתָיו ('and his daughters'), and some scholars emend the MT to וּבְנָיו ('and his builders'); on the other hand, the MT is clearly the more difficult reading, so it is preferred.

¹⁴ An alternative translation for 'supervisor of the portion assigned to' is 'head of the district of'.

¹⁷ An alternative translation for 'head of half the district of' is 'supervisor of half the portion assigned to', as also in v.18.

¹⁸ After him, their brothers made repairs: Binnui son of Henadad, head of the other half of the district of Keilah.

¹⁹ And, next to him, Ezer son of Jeshua, head of Mizpah, repaired another section in front of the ascent to the armoury of the Angle.

²⁰ After him, Baruch son of Zabbai repaired and inflamed another section from the Angle to the door of the house of Eliashib the High Priest.

²⁴ After him, Binnui son of Henadad repaired another section from Azariah's house as far as the Angle at the corner. ²⁵ After him, Palal son of Uzai [made repairs] in front of the Angle and the tower projecting ¹⁸ 'Binnui' follows the LXX (Βεννι) and Peshitta (compare v. 24 & 10:9); the MT has 'Bavvai' (בַּוְּבַי).

¹⁹ In place of 'armoury of the Angle', here following the NJB, NETB has 'armoury at the buttress'.

²⁰ The NRSV and NJB, following the LXX, omit 'and inflamed'. In place of זַבִּי, here following the Kethib, the Qere has זָבִי.

²¹ In place of the 2nd 'Eliashib's house', here following the MT, NJB & NRSV, NETB has 'it'.

²² The NJB has 'who lived in the district' in place of 'men of the district', here following the MT & NRSV.

²³ In place of 'near his house', here following NETB, the NJB has 'beside his own house'.

²⁴ The NRSV & NETB have 'and the corner' in place of 'at the corner', here following the NJB.

from the king's Upper Palace by the Court of the Guard; and after him, Pedaiah son of Parosh.

²⁶ And the temple slaves living at Ophel [made repairs] to a point by the Water Gate to the east and the projecting tower.

²⁹ After them, Zadok son of Immer made repairs in front of his house. And, after him, Shemaiah son of Shecaniah, keeper of the East Gate, made repairs.

³⁰ After him, Hananiah son of Shelemiah and Hanun sixth son of Zalaph repaired another section. Then, Meshullam son of Berechiah made repairs in front of his room.

³¹ After him, Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths, repaired as far as the Hall of the temple slaves and merchants, in front of the Muster Gate, to the upper room at the corner; ³² and between the upper room at the corner and the Sheep Gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants made repairs.

²⁷ NETB has 'protruding' in place of 'projecting', here following the NJB & NRSV.

²⁸ In place of 'above the Horse Gate', here following the NRSV & NETB, the NJB has 'from the Horse Gate onwards'.

²⁹ Throughout this section, the NJB has 'carried out repairs' in place of 'made repairs', here following the NRSV.

³⁰ The translation, 'after him', follows the Qere; the Kethib has 'after me' – as also in v. 31.

³¹ The 'Muster Gate' is also known as the 'Hammiphkad Gate'. On the Kethib/Qere difference here, see #30.

³³ When Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, he became furiously angry. ³⁴ He ridiculed the Jews and, before his kinsmen and the army of Samaria, he said, “What are these pathetic Jews doing? Will they restore things? Are they going to give up, offer sacrifices, or complete the work in a day? Can they put new life into stones taken from rubbish heaps and even charred?” ³⁵ Near him, Tobiah of Ammon said, “If a fox were to jump on what they are building, it would knock their stone wall down!”

³³ The NRSV numbers this verse 4:1; the numbering scheme used herein is that of the MT & NJB.

³⁴ The translation, ‘will they restore things’ (following the NJB & NRSV), is difficult; it should, perhaps, be ‘will they commit their cause to God’, emending the MT’s לָהֶם (‘to them’) to לֵאלֹהִים (‘to God’).

³⁵ The NJB has ‘jackal’ in place of ‘fox’, here following the NRSV & NETB.

³⁶ Words of ill omen must be countered by words of ill omen.

³⁷ The NJB has ‘pardon their wickedness’ in place of ‘cover their guilt’, here following the NRSV & NETB.

³⁸ The literal translation of ‘to mid-height’ is ‘to its half’.

³ So, we prayed to our God and organised a guard day and night against them. ⁴ But Judah said, “The strength of the carriers falters, the rubbish is so vast that we cannot rebuild the wall!” ⁵ Our opponents said, “They will never know or see a thing, until we are in there among them, and then we shall massacre them and put a stop to the work.”

⁶ Now, when the Jews who lived near them came, they warned us ten times over, “They are coming up against us from every place they live in,” ⁷ Therefore, I stationed men in the space behind the wall at the lowest points, and I organised the people by families with their swords,

NEHEMIAH 4

¹ This is v. 7 in the NRSV and WEBBE (see #3:33); all other verses therein are accordingly increased.

² In place of ‘cause confusion in it’, here following the MT & NRSV, the NJB has ‘upset my plans’.

³ Before ‘against them’, the NJB adds ‘to protect the city’ and the NRSV adds ‘as a protection’, although the MT has no such phrase.

⁴ In place of ‘carriers’, here following the NJB, the NRSV, following the MT literally, has ‘burden-bearers’ and NETB has ‘labourers’.

⁶ ‘They are coming up against us’ follows the LXX (Ἀναβαίνουσιν – literally, ‘they ascend’); the MT omits is.

Remember the great and awe-inspiring Lord and fight for your kinsmen, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your homes.”

⁹ Once our enemies heard that their plot was known to us and that God had frustrated their plan, we all went back to the wall, each one to his work. ¹⁰ From that day forward, half my own retainers went back to work, while the other half stood by, armed with spears, shields, bows, and body-armour, and their officers posted themselves behind whole House of Judah ¹¹ as they rebuilt the wall. The carriers did their loading in such a way as to work with one hand and hold a spear in the other. ¹² And each of the builders had his sword strapped to his side as he built; beside me stood the man who sounded the trumpet. ¹³ I then said to the nobles, the officials, and the rest of the people, “The work is demanding and widely spread out, and we are deployed along the wall some way from one another. ¹⁴ Rally to us wherever you hear the sound of the

⁹ After ‘plan’, the NJB adds, ‘they withdrew’. The Kethib/ Qere difference here (dropping a vav) warrants an explanation.

¹⁰ The NJB omits ‘with their officers’. By his ‘own retainers’, he would mean his personal, better-armed bodyguards.

¹¹ The NJB, following the LXX, has ‘were armed’ in place of ‘did their loading’, and includes the words ‘as they rebuilt the wall’ in v. 16.

¹² The literal translation of ‘the man who sounded the trumpet’ is ‘the one blowing the shophar’.

¹³ Literally translated, ‘demanding’ (here following NETB) is simply ‘much’.

¹⁴ In place of ‘the sound of the trumpet’, here following the MT & NRSV, the NJB has ‘the trumpet sounding’.

trumpet; our God will fight for us.” ¹⁵ Thus, we went on with the work, and half of them held spears, from break of day until the stars came out. ¹⁶ At the same time, I also told the people, “Let every man, with his attendant, spend the night inside Jerusalem; we shall spend the night on guard and the day at work.” ¹⁷ Neither I, nor my brothers, nor my attendants, nor my bodyguards, ever took off our clothes; each one kept his spear in his right hand.

¹⁵ Night work was hardly possible in those days. The NJB omits ‘and half of them held spears’, possibly a gloss from v. 10.

¹⁶ As well as ensuring their safety and protecting the city, this action also prevented those who would normally have gone home to their villages from deserting. It also cut off one of Sanballat’s sources of intelligence.

¹⁷ ‘In his right hand’ is a conjectural translation; the MT has ‘each his weapon the water’.

¹ There was a great outcry of the people, and of their wives, against their Jewish kin. ² Some said, "With our sons and daughters we are many; we must get enough grain to eat and keep us alive." ³ Others said, "We have to mortgage our fields, our vineyards and our houses to get grain because of the shortage." ⁴ Still others said, "We have had to borrow money on our fields and our vineyards to pay the royal tax; ⁵ and though we are of the same flesh as our brothers, and our children are as good as theirs, we shall have to sell our sons and our daughters into slavery; some of our daughters have been ravished. We are powerless, and our fields and vineyards now belong to others."

⁶ When I heard their outcry and these words, I was very angry. ⁷ After thinking it over, I reprimanded the nobles and the officials saying to them, "Each of you is imposing a debt on his brother." Summoning a great assembly to deal with them, ⁸ I said to them, "To the best of our

² The NJB opens the quotation, here following the NRSV with, "We are having to pledge our sons and daughters to get ..."

³ The literal translation of 'get' is 'take' (as also in v. 2).

⁴ The 'royal tax' was a tribute due to Persia.

⁵ The crisis cannot have had the work on the wall as its sole cause; this particular social evil was endemic (see 2K 4:1, Is 50:1, Am 2:6, 8:6). In place of 'ravished', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'sold into slavery already'.

⁶ The NJB has 'complaints' in place of 'outcry', here following the NRSV & NETB.

⁸ In place of 'sell themselves to', here following the MT, the NRSV and NJB, following the Vg (redimemus eos), have 'be bought back by'.

power, we have redeemed our brother Jews who were forced to sell themselves to foreigners, and now you in turn are selling your brothers, for them to sell themselves to us!" They were silent and could find nothing to say.

⁹ So, I said, "What you are doing is wrong. Should you not walk in the fear of our God and escape the sneers of the nations, our enemies? ¹⁰ I too, with my brothers and lads, have lent them money and grain. Let us cancel these pledges. ¹¹ This very day, return them their fields, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, and cancel the interest on the money, grain, new wine, and olive oil that you have lent them." ¹² "We shall make restitution," they replied, "we shall claim nothing more from them; we shall do as you say." I then called the priests and made them swear to do as they had promised. ¹³ Then, shaking out the fold of my garment, I said, "May God thus shake out of house and possessions anyone who does not make good this promise; may he be shaken thus and emptied!" The whole assembly answered, "Amen!" and praised Yahweh; and the people kept this promise.

⁹ The translation, 'so I said', reads with the Qere (וְאָמַר) rather than the Kethib, which has, 'so he said' (וַיֹּאמֶר).

¹⁰ In place of 'lads', here following the MT, the NJB has 'retainers', the NRSV has 'servants' and NETB has 'associates'.

¹¹ In place of 'interest' (following the NRSV), the NJB has 'claim'; the literal translation of the Hebrew is 'hundredth part'. This is usually taken to mean 1% monthly.

¹⁴ What is more, from the time when he appointed me to be their governor in Judah, that is from the twentieth year to the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes – for twelve years in all – neither I nor my brothers ever levied the governor’s subsistence allowance, ¹⁵ whereas the former governors, my predecessors, had been a burden on the people, from whom they took forty silver shekels, besides food and wine, while their attendants oppressed the people too. However, I, fearing God, never did this. ¹⁶ Indeed, not acquiring any land, I concentrated on the work of this wall and all my attendants joined in the work together, too.

¹⁷ Moreover, a hundred and fifty Jews and officials ate at my table, not to mention those who came to us from the surrounding nations. ¹⁸ Every day, one ox, six choice sheep, as well as poultry, were prepared for me; every ten days, skins of wine were brought in bulk. Yet, even so, I never claimed the governor’s subsistence allowance, since the people already had burden enough to bear.

¹⁹ Remember for my good, O my God, all that I have done for this people.

¹⁴ In place of ‘he’, the NJB, following the Vg, has ‘the king’. The NJB & NRSV emend צִוָּה אוֹתִי (‘he appointed me’) to צִוָּאתִי (‘I was appointed’).

¹⁵ In place of ‘besides’, the NJB, following the Vg (ab eis in), has ‘a day for’ (?). A ‘shekel’ is about 10 grams.

¹⁶ The literal translation of ‘not acquiring any land’ is ‘we did not purchase land’.

¹⁷ The NJB has ‘magistrates’ in place of ‘Jews’, here following the NRSV & NETB.

¹⁸ In place of ‘choice’, here following the NRSV, the NJB has ‘fine’.

¹⁹ For this verse, here following the NRSV, the NJB reads, “To my credit, my God, remember all I have done for this people.”

¹ And, when it was reported to Sanballat and Tobiah and to Geshem the Arab and our other enemies that I had rebuilt the wall, and that not a single gap remained – although, at that time, I had not positioned the doors to the gates – ² Sanballat and Geshem sent me this message, “Come and meet us at Ha-Chephirim in the Plain of Ono.” However, they intended to do me harm, ³ so I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am engaged in a great undertaking, so I cannot come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and come down to you?” ⁴ And four times, they sent me the same invitation and I gave them the same reply each time.

⁵ The fifth time, in the same way, Sanballat sent me his servant bearing an open letter. ⁶ It ran, “There is a rumour among the nations – and Gashmu confirms it – that you and the Jews are thinking of rebelling,

NEHEMIAH 6

¹ The NJB replaces ‘it was reported to’ before the list of names with ‘heard’ after it; here, we follow the MT & NRSV.

² In place of ‘at Ha-Chephirim’, the NRSV has ‘in one of the villages’; it is not entirely clear whether the word כפירים is a place name not mentioned elsewhere in the OT (as indicated in the present translation, following the NJB, NETB, NAB & NASB) or whether it means ‘in (one of) the villages’ (as also NIV & NLT). The LXX (ἐν ταῖς κώμαις) and Vg (in viculis) understand it in the latter sense. Some scholars connect this term with the identically spelled word כפירים (‘lions’) as a figurative description of princes or warriors (e.g., Ps 34:11, 35:17, 58:7, Jr 2:15, Ezk 32:2, 13, Na 2:14): ‘let us meet together with the leaders in the plain of Ono’.

³ In place of ‘engaged in a great undertaking’, here following the NJB, the NRSV has ‘doing a great work’.

⁴ The literal translation of ‘I gave them the same reply’ is ‘I answered them according to this word’.

which is why you are rebuilding the wall, and you intend to become their king; ⁷ and that you have even briefed prophets to acclaim you in Jerusalem with the cry, "There is a king in Judah!" Now, these rumours are going to reach the king; so, you had better come and discuss them with us."

⁸ Then I sent to him, saying, "No such thing as you say has occurred; it is a figment of your imagination." ⁹ For they all wanted to terrorise us, thinking, "They will become demoralised over the work and it will not get finished." Now, O God, strengthen my hands.

¹⁰ Then, when I went to visit Shemaiah son of Delaiah, son of Mehetabel, who was confined to his house, he said: "We must gather at the Temple of God, inside the Temple; we must shut the Temple doors, for they are coming to kill you, they are coming to kill you tonight!"

¹¹ But I said, "Should a man like me run away? Would a man like me go into the Temple to save his life? I shall not go in!" ¹² I realised that God had not sent him to say this, but that he had pronounced this prophecy

⁷ When their plot to lure him to Ono (v. 2) failed, Sanballat and Geshem now try to frighten Nehemiah by threatening to report him to the king, mentioning the prophets (Haggai and Zechariah had supported Zerubbabel) because they were known as fomenters of rebellion (Jr 28:1-4).

⁸ The literal translation of 'it is a figment of your imagination' is 'from your heart you are inventing them'.

⁹ For the last sentence, the NJB reads, "But my morale rose even higher."

¹⁰ In place of 'who was confined to his house', the NJB has 'since he was prevented from coming to me'. The meaning is not clear; perhaps it is simply that the prophet was prevented from coming and invited the governor in order to communicate a prophecy to him.

¹¹ Shemaiah advises Nehemiah to claim sanctuary, a privilege attached first to the altar (1K 1:50ff, 2:28ff) and later to the Temple (1M 10:43, Ps 27:5). Yet, by saying 'inside the sanctuary itself', where laity could not go, he would involve Nehemiah in a grave fault (vv. 11, 13, Nb 18:7).

¹² The NJB omits 'and Sanballat', here and in v. 14.

for me because Tobiah and Sanballat were paying him; ¹³ he was hired to terrorise me into doing as he said and committing a sin, so that they would have grounds for discrediting and blaming me.

¹⁴ Remember Tobiah and Sanballat, my God, in the light of these actions of theirs; and also Noadiah the prophetess, and the other prophets who tried to terrorise me. ¹⁵ The wall was finished within fifty-two days, on the twenty-fifth of Edul.

¹⁶ And, when all our enemies heard about it, all the surrounding nations were afraid of it, and fell greatly in their own esteem, for they perceived that this work had been accomplished by the power of our God. ¹⁷ And, in those days, the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah's letters came to them; ¹⁸ for, he had many bound by oath to his interest in Judah, since he was son-in-law to Shecaniah son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam son of Berechiah. ¹⁹ They even spoke of his good deeds in my presence, and they reported what I had said back to him; and Tobiah kept sending letters to terrorise me.

¹³ The NJB omits 'he was hired'. That prophets could be hired illustrates Zc 13:2-6.

¹⁴ In place of 'in the light of these actions of theirs', here following NETB, the NJB has 'for what they did'.

¹⁵ The date corresponds to the end of September 445 BCE. Possibly, the positions of vv. 15-16 and 17-19 should be reversed.

¹⁶ In place of 'were afraid of it', the NJB has 'saw it'; and, in place of 'fell greatly in their own esteem', it has 'they thought it a wonderful thing'.

¹⁷ In place of 'many letters', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'letter after letter'.

¹⁸ The literal translation of 'he had many sworn to his interest' is 'he was lord of oath to many'.

¹⁹ The NJB has 'cried up' (?) in place of 'spoke of', here following the NRSV.

¹ Now, when the wall had been rebuilt, I had hung the doors, and the gatekeepers, the singers and the Levites were appointed, ² I entrusted the administration of Jerusalem to my brother Hanani and to Hananiah the commander of the citadel, for he was a faithful man and more God-fearing than many others. ³ And I said to them, "The gates of Jerusalem must not be opened until the sun gets hot; and the doors must be shut and barred before the guard stands down. Appoint guards from the residents of Jerusalem, each to his post, in front of his own house. ⁴ The city was wide and large but the population was small, and no houses had been built. ⁵ My God then inspired me to assemble the nobles, the officials, and the people to take a census by families. I found the book of genealogy of those who had returned first, and there I found written:

⁶ These are the people of the province who returned from the captivity of the Exile, those whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had

NEHEMIAH 7

- ¹ 'The singers and the Levites' is an addition, confusing the city guards with the gatekeepers of the Temple (see vv. 43–45).
- ² Some have suggested that 'Hananiah' (חַנְנִיָּה) is another name for 'Hanani' (חַנְנִי), Nehemiah's brother, so that only one individual is mentioned here; however, the 3P plural in v. 3 indicates two people are in view.
- ³ The translation, 'and I said' reads with the Qere and a Qumran MS, rather than the Kethib, which has 'and he said'.
- ⁴ The repopulation of Jerusalem by Nehemiah (7:4–72, 11:1–2, 20, 25^a) may be compared with the Greek Synoikismos, i.e. either the unification of several previously scattered groups, or the centralisation in one city of the civil and religious administration of a whole region. See Dt 25:9 for the figurative use of the phrase, 'houses had not been rebuilt', which is 'families had not been reconstituted'.
- ⁵ The "Memoirs of Nehemiah" continue after chapter 10. The 2nd sentence here is a transition to introduce the genealogies of vv. 6–72.
- ⁶ The list is parallel to Ezr 2 (see #Ezr 2:1).

ified from the priesthood. ⁶⁵ So, His Excellency forbade them to eat any of the sacred food until a priest came with Urim and Thummim. ⁶⁶ The entire group numbered forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty, ⁶⁷ besides their slaves and maidservants to the number of seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven. They also had two hundred and forty-five male and female singers.

⁶⁵ In place of 'His Excellency', here following the NJB and translating the Hebrew title תְּרֻשָׁתָא, the NRSV & NETB have 'the governor'.

⁶⁶ At the end of this verse, the NJB adds 'people'; here, we follow the MT & NRSV.

⁶⁷ The NJB has 'not counting' in place of 'besides', here following the NRSV.

⁶⁹ The NJB, following the LXX, has 'thirty' (τριάκοντα) in place of 'five hundred and thirty', here following the MT & NRSV.

⁷⁰ Here, and in v. 69 & 71, the NJB has 'drachmas' in place of 'darics' (gold coins weighing ~8½g), here following the NRSV.

⁷¹ The NRSV opens this verse, here following the NJB, with, "And what the rest of the people gave." A 'mina' was ~600g.

people, the temple servants, and all Israel lived in their cities. When the seventh month had come, the children of Israel were in their cities.

⁵ In sight of all the people – since he stood above them all – Ezra opened the book; and when he opened it, all the people stood up. ⁶ Then Ezra

NEHEMIAH 8

- ¹ Logically and chronologically, Ne 8 should follow Ezr 8:36, Ezra having arrived from Babylon to promulgate the Law (Ezr 7:25–26). The Chronicler uses Ezra's report at this point. The 'Water Gate' (doubtless that of 3:26) was southeast of the Temple, not on sacred ground.
- ² In pre-Exilic times, the feast of the seventh month (September – October) began the New Year (Ex 23:16, 34:22, Lv 23:24ff, Nb 29:1).
- ³ The literal translation of 'from dawn until noon' is 'from the light until the noon of the day'.
- ⁴ Those supporting Ezra were prominent laymen.
- ⁵ The literal translation of 'in sight' is 'to the eyes'.
- ⁶ The NJB has 'prostrated themselves before' in place of 'worshipped', here following the WEBBE.

blessed Yahweh, the great God, and all the people raised their hands and answered, "Amen! Amen!" Then they bowed down and, face to the ground, worshipped Yahweh. ⁷ Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan and Pelaiah, and the Levites, explained the Law to the people, while the people all kept their places. ⁸ They read from the book of the Law of God, translating and giving the sense, so the reading was understood.

⁹ Then His Excellency Nehemiah, the priest-scribe Ezra and the Levites who were instructing the people said to all the people, "Today is sacred to Yahweh your God. Do not be mournful, do not weep." For the people were all in tears as they listened to the words of the Law. ¹⁰ He then said, "You may go; eat what is rich, drink what is sweet and send a helping ⁷ In place of 'and the Levites', the NJB, following Aquila & 1Esd 9:48, has 'who were Levites'; the NRSV implies the latter. The Chronicler, who credits the Levites with a function that they acquired at a later date, has added this verse.

⁸ In place of 'they', the NJB, following the LXX, opens the verse with 'Ezra'. The exact meaning of the Pual participle מְפָרֵשׁ ('translating') in this verse is uncertain; the basic sense seems to be 'to make distinct', but the word may also have the sense of 'to divide in parts', 'to interpret', or 'to translate' (since the book was in Hebrew, it was interpreted to the people in the more familiar Aramaic). The context does not decisively clarify how the participle is to be understood here, though it probably refers to the role of the Levites as those who explained or interpreted the portions of biblical text that had been publicly read on this occasion. A different option, however, is suggested by the translation distincte ('distinctly') of the Vg: if the Hebrew word means 'distinctly' here, it would imply that the readers paid particular attention to such things as word-grouping and pronunciation so as to be sure that the listeners had every opportunity to understand the message that was being read. Yet another view is found in the Talmud, which understands translation of the Hebrew text into Aramaic to be what is in view here. It is not clear that the practice of paraphrasing the Hebrew biblical text into Aramaic in order to accommodate the needs of those Jews who were not at home in the Hebrew language developed this early. The translation adopted by NETB ('explaining it') understands the word to have in mind an explanatory function rather than one of translation.

to the man who has nothing prepared. For today is sacred to our Lord. Do not be sad: the joy of Yahweh is your stronghold." ¹¹ The Levites calmed all the people down, saying, "Keep quiet; this is a sacred day. Do not grieve." ¹² Then, all the people went off to eat and drink and give portions away and enjoy themselves to the full, since they had understood the meaning of what had been proclaimed to them.

¹³ On the second day, the heads of families of the whole people, and the priests and Levites, gathered round the scribe Ezra to study the words of the Law. ¹⁴ Written in the Law that Yahweh had prescribed through Moses, they found that the Israelites were to live in shelters during the feast of the seventh month. ¹⁵ Therefore, they issued a proclamation and had it circulated in all their towns and in Jerusalem: "Go into the hills and bring branches of olive, pine, myrtle, palm and other leafy trees to make shelters, as it says in the book."

¹⁶ The people went out; they brought them and made shelters for themselves, each man on his roof, in their courts, in the courts of the Temple

¹¹ In place of 'grieve', here following NETB, the NJB has 'be sad' and the NRSV has 'be grieved'.

¹³ The literal translation of 'heads of families' is 'heads of the fathers'.

¹⁴ Lv 23:33–36 and 39–43 also put the Feast of Shelters in the 7th month; the feast lasts 8 days. However, in Lv 23:40, the branches are used in the procession, whereas in Ne 8:15 they are used for building shelters. According to Lv 23:34, 39 and Nb 29:12–38, the feast begins on the 15th day of the 7th month, but Lv 23:27 states that it starts on the 10th day of Atonement (Lv 16), which must have been celebrated (being on the 10th day of the 7th month) between the reading of the Law by Ezra and the Feast of Shelters.

¹⁶ In place of 'brought them', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'brought the branches'.

of God, in the square of the Water Gate and in the square of the Ephraim Gate. ¹⁷ The whole assembly, all who had returned from the exile, put up shelters and lived in them; this the Israelites had not done from the days of Joshua son of Nun until that day, and there was very great rejoicing. ¹⁸ Each day, from the first day to the last one, Ezra read from the Book of the Law of God. They celebrated the feast for seven days; on the eighth day, as prescribed, they held a solemn assembly.

¹⁷ See 2K 23:22 and 2Ch 35:18, where somewhat similar claims are made for a particularly well-attended festival. The shelters themselves were no innovation (see Dt 16:13) and it is not clear what distinction the writer is trying to make. The NRSV has 'Jeshua' in place of 'Joshua'.

¹⁸ A more literal translation of 'each day' (here following the NJB) is 'day by day' (as NRSV & NETB).

NEHEMIAH 9

⁴ On the Levites' platform stood Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani, calling to Yahweh their God in ringing tones. ⁵ The Levites, Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah said, "Stand up and bless Yahweh your God!"

NEHEMIAH 9

- ¹ The Atonement was for the sin of mixed marriage. The narrative follows on from Ezr 10:44; but only vv. 1-2 are part of the "Memoirs of Ezra".
² The confession was something in which non-Jews could not participate.
³ This verse is an addition inspired by 8:3-6, where the assembly has been made to conform to the gatherings of the Chronicler's own day.
⁴ The NJB conjecturally replaces the first 'Bani' (בְּנֵי) with 'Binnui' (cf. 10:10).

 אֶת־הָהוּא יְהוָה לְבַדּוֹ אֶת אֶתֶּה עָשִׂיתָ אֶת־הַשָּׁמַיִם שָׁמַי הַשָּׁמַיִם וְכָל־צְבָאָם הָאָרֶץ וְכָל־אֲשֶׁר עָלֶיהָ הַיָּמִים וְכָל־אֲשֶׁר בָּהֶם וְאַתָּה מַחֲיָה אֶת־כָּלֶם וּצְבָא הַשָּׁמַיִם לָךְ מִשְׁתַּחֲוִים: אֶת־הָהוּא יְהוָה הָאֱלֹהִים אֲשֶׁר בָּחַרְתָּ בְּאַבְרָם וְהוֹצֵאתוֹ מֵאוּר כַּשְׁדִּים וְשִׁמַּת שְׁמוֹ אַבְרָהָם: וּמָצֵאתָ אֶת־לִבּוֹ נֶאֱמַן לְפָנָיִךְ וְכָרוֹת עָמּוֹ הַבְּרִית לָתֵת אֶת־אֶרֶץ הַכְּנַעֲנִי הַחִתִּי הָאֱמֹרִי וְהַפְּרִזִּי וְהַיְּבוּסִי וְהַגִּרְגָּשִׁי לָתֵת לְזֶרְעוֹ וְתָקַם אֶת־דְּבָרֶיךָ כִּי צָדִיק אַתָּה: 	 1 6 7 8 	 You are the one, Yahweh, you alone, you have created the heavens, the heaven of heavens and all their array, the earth and all it bears, the seas and all they hold. To all of them, you give life, and the array of heaven worships you. You are Yahweh, the God, who chose Abram, brought him out of Ur in Chaldaea and changed his name to Abraham. Finding his heart was faithful to you, you made a covenant with him, to give the country of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites and the Girgashites to him and his descendants; and you have made good your promises, for you are upright.
---	---------------------------------	--

⁷ For the last line, here following the NJB, the NRSV reads, “and gave him the name Abraham.”

⁸ The literal translation of ‘a covenant’ is ‘the covenant’.

9 You saw the distress of our ancestors in Egypt;
 you heard their cry by the Sea of Reeds.
 10 You displayed signs and wonders against Pharaoh, against all his servants and all the people of his land;
 for you knew how arrogantly they treated them.
 You won a reputation, which you keep to this day.
 11 You opened up the sea in front of them;
 they walked on dry ground right through the sea.
 Into the depths, you hurled their pursuers like a stone into the raging waters.
 12 With a pillar of cloud, you led them by day, with a pillar of fire by night:
 to light the way ahead of them
 by which they were to go.
 13 You came down on Mount Sinai and spoke with them from heaven;
 you gave them right rules, reliable laws, good statutes and commandments.

⁹ Most English versions translate 'Sea of Reeds' (here following the MT & NJB) as 'Red Sea'.

¹⁰ The phrase 'signs and wonders' can be taken as a verbal hendiadys, taking the 2nd noun as an adjective and read 'awesome signs' (as NETB).

¹¹ The literal translation of 'right through' is 'in the midst of'.

¹² For the last 2 lines, here following the NJB, the NRSV reads, "to give them light on the way in which they should go."

¹³ In place of 'right rules and reliable laws', here following the NJB, the NRSV has 'right ordinances and true laws'.

14 You revealed you holy Sabbath to them;
you laid down commandments, statutes, and law for them through your servant Moses.
15 For their hunger, you gave them bread from heaven, for their thirst, you brought them water out of a rock, and you told them to go in and take possession of the country that you had sworn to give them.
16 But they and our ancestors acted arrogantly, grew obstinate and flouted your commandments.
17 They refused to obey,
forgetful of the wonders that you had worked for them;
they grew obstinate and made up their minds to return to their slavery in Egypt.
However, because you are a forgiving God, gracious and compassionate, patient and rich in faithful love, you did not abandon them!
18 Even when they cast themselves a calf out of molten metal saying, "This is your God who brought you up from Egypt!"

14 One or other of the words 'commandments' and 'statutes' has been added on the basis of v. 13; the line is hypermetrical.

15 The literal translation of 'sworn' is 'lifted your hand'.

16 The literal translation of 'acted arrogantly' is 'stiffened their necks'.

17 'In Egypt' follows the LXX (ἐν Αἰγύπτῳ) and some medieval Hebrew MSS (במצרים); the MT has 'in their rebellion' (במריהם). In place of וחסד ('and faithful love'), here following the Kethib, the Qere has חסד ('faithful love').

18 In place of 'great blasphemies', here following the NRSV & NETB, the NJB has 'monstrous impieties'.

20 You gave them your good spirit to instruct them, you did not withhold your manna from their mouths,
and you gave them water for their thirst.
21 For forty years, you cared for them in the desert, so that they went short of nothing,
their cloths did not wear out,
nor did their feet swell.
22 You gave them kingdoms and peoples, allotting them these as frontier lands;
they occupied the country of Sihon,
and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

19 The literal translation of the 2nd/4th lines is, "did not turn from them by day to guide them in the path."

20 For the 1st line, here following the NJB & NRSV, NETB reads (as a separate sentence), "You imparted your good Spirit to instruct them."

21 The NRSV has 'wilderness' in place of 'desert', here following the NJB & NETB.

22 The NJB lacks 'the land of' before 'king of Hebron'; here, we follow the MT.

23 You gave them as many children as there are stars in the sky, and brought them into the country that you had promised their ancestors that they would enter and possess.
 24 The children entered and took possession of the country, and before them, you subdued the Canaanites,
 the country's inhabitants, whom you put at their mercy, with their kings and the peoples of the country,
 for them to treat as they pleased.
 25 They captured fortified towns and a fertile countryside, they took possession of houses filled with all kinds of goods, hewn cisterns, vineyards, olive groves and many fruit trees;
 so they ate until they were full, grew fat and revelled in your great goodness.
 26 But they grew disobedient, rebelled against you and thrust your law behind their backs;

²³ For the last two lines, here following the NJB/NRSV, NETB reads, "you had told their ancestors to enter in order to possess."

²⁴ In place of 'their children' (literally, 'the sons'), here following the NJB, NETB has 'their descendants'.

²⁵ The literal translation of 'they ate until they were full' is 'they ate and were sated'; this expression is a hendiadys: the 1st verb retains its full verbal sense, while the 2nd functions adverbially.

²⁶ For the 2nd line, here following the MT & NJB, NETB has 'they disregarded your law'.

they slaughtered your prophets who had reproved them to bring them back to you, and committed monstrous impieties.
 27 Therefore, you put them at the mercy of their enemies who oppressed them.
 But when they were being oppressed and called to you,
 you heard them from heaven and because of your great compassion you gave them deliverers who rescued them from the hands of their oppressors.
 28 However, once at peace again,
 again they did what was wrong before you;
 so, you put them at the mercy of their enemies who then became their rulers.
 When they called to you again,
 you heard them from heaven and, in your compassion, rescued them many times.
 29 You warned them, to bring them back to your law,
 but they became arrogant,
 did not obey your commandments

27 The 'deliverers' here are the Judges (Jg 2:16).

28 The literal translation of 'at the mercy' is 'in the hands'.

29 The literal translation of 'were obstinate' is 'stiffened their necks'.

and sinned against your rules,
in whose observance is life;
they turned a stubborn shoulder,
were obstinate, and disobeyed.
30 You were patient with them for many years and warned them by your spirit through your prophets, but they would not listen;
so, you put them at the mercy of the people of the country.
31 However, because of your great compassion, you did not make an end of them nor abandon them,
for you are a gracious, compassionate God.
32 Now, our God – the great and Mighty and Awesome God, maintaining the Covenant and your faithful love – count as no small thing this misery that has befallen us, our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, our ancestors, and all your people from the times of the Assyrian kings to the present day.
33 You have been upright
in all that has happened to us,

30 The Hebrew expression of the 1st line is elliptical; for 'you were patient', here following the NJB & NSRV, NETB has 'you prolonged your kindness'.
31 NETB has 'abundant mercy' in place of 'great compassion', here following the NJB & NRSV.
32 The NJB omits 'our ancestors'.
33 The literal translation of the 3rd line is 'you have done truth'.

for you acted faithfully,
 while we did wrong.

- 34 Our kings, our princes, our priests and our ancestors did not keep your law or pay attention to your commandments and obligations that you imposed on them.
- 35 Even in their own kingdom,
 despite your great goodness that you bestowed on them, despite the wide and fertile country that you had lavished on them, they did not serve you or renounce their evil deeds.
- 36 See, we are slaves today, in the country that you gave to our ancestors for them to eat the fruit and enjoy the good things it produces, we are slaves!
- 37 Its abundant produce goes to the kings whom, for our sins, you have set over us, who rule over our persons

34 In place of 'obligations', here following the NJB, the NRSV has 'warnings' and NETB has 'testimonies'.

35 The literal translation of 'lavished on them' is 'set before them'.

36 The word 'enjoy' is not included in the MT, but has been supplied in the translation, following NETB, for clarity.

37 The literal translation of 'as they please' is 'according to their desire'.

- ¹ In view of all this, we made a firm agreement, in writing. Our princes, our Levites, our priests, and the rest of the people have put their names on that sealed document. ² On the sealed document were the names of: Nehemiah, son of Hacaliah, and Zedekiah; ³ Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah, ⁴ Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah, ⁵ Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch, ⁶ Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, ⁷ Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch, ⁸ Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, ⁹ Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah: these were the priests.
- ¹⁰ The Levites were: Jeshua son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel, ¹¹ and their kinsmen Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita,

- ¹ This verse is included as 9:38 in most other English translations; all other verse numbers of this chapter are therein accordingly decremented.
- ² This supposed list of signatories (vv. 2–28) is an artificial composition: in vv. 3–9, the lists of 12:1–6, 12–18 are used, and family names given where one would expect individual names; vv. 10–14 are a selection of Levitical names, almost all of which occur elsewhere; the names of laymen (vv. 15–21) come from the list of Ezr 2 = Ne 7. The new names in vv. 12–14 and 22–28 must be those of contemporaries of the author of the list, who is later than Nehemiah. Some names have been corrected in accordance with the versions.

²⁹ The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple slaves and all those who had severed relations with the people of the lands to adhere to the Law of God, as also their wives, their sons, their daughters, that is, all those who had reached the age of discretion, ³⁰ have joined their esteemed brothers in a curse and an oath to follow the Law of God given through Moses, servant of God, and to observe and practise all the commandments of Yahweh our Lord, with his rules and his statutes.

³¹ We will not give our daughters in marriage to the people of the lands, nor allow their daughters to marry our sons. ³² If the people of the lands bring goods or foodstuff of any kind to sell on the Sabbath day, we will buy nothing from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day. In the seventh year, we will forego the crops and the exaction of all debts.

³³ We lay on ourselves the obligation to give one third of a shekel yearly for the service of the Temple of our God: ³⁴ for loaves of permanent offering, for the perpetual oblation, for the perpetual burnt offering, for the Sabbaths, New Moons and festivals, for the holy gifts, the sin offerings to atone for Israel, and for all the work of the Temple of our God.

²⁹ In place of 'people of the lands', here following the MT & NRSV (the NJB has 'people of the country'), NETB has 'neighbouring peoples'.

³⁰ The expression 'a curse and an oath' may be a hendiadys, meaning 'an oath with penalties' (the NJB has 'a solemn oath').

³¹ This is a commitment for the future; it is no longer a question, as in Ezr 9-10, of breaking off existing marriages.

³² In place of 'crops', the NJB has 'produce of the soil', following Ex 23:10.

³³ After 'give', the MT adds 'upon us' (עָלֵינוּ) but this should probably be deleted, following a few medieval Hebrew MSS, the Peshitta & Vg.

³⁴ Before 'the Sabbaths', the NJB adds 'sacrifices on'.

³⁵ Furthermore, as regards deliveries of wood for burning on the altar of our God as the law prescribes, we have arranged, by drawing lots, how these deliveries are to be made at the Temple of our God by the priests, the Levites, and the people by families, at stated time every year.

³⁶ We commit ourselves to bring yearly to the Temple of our God the first fruits of our soil and the first fruits of all our trees, ³⁷ also the first-born of our sons and of our cattle, as the law prescribes, the first-born of our herds and flocks should be taken to the Temple of our God for the priests officiating in the Temple of our God. ³⁸ And we shall bring the best of our dough and our contributions, the fruit of every tree, the new wine, and the oil, to the priests, to the storerooms of the Temple of our God, and the tithe of our soil to the Levites, for the Levites will collect the tithes from all our rural towns. ³⁹ An Aaronite priest will be with the Levites when they collect the tithes, and the Levites will bring a tithe of the tithes to the Temple of our God, into the treasury storerooms. ⁴⁰ For, the people of Israel and the sons of Levi shall bring the contribution of ³⁵ The NJB transposes this verse so that it appears before 'We will no longer neglect' of v. 40. 'Drawing lots' was a recognized procedure (11:1, 1Ch 25:8, 1S 14:40–45, Ac 1:23–26).

³⁶ The literal translation of 'yearly', here following the NJB is 'year by year' (as NRSV & NETB).

³⁷ In place of 'officiating', here following the NJB, the NJB has 'who minister'.

³⁸ The NJB, following the LXX, omits 'and our contributions'.

³⁹ The literal translation of 'an Aaronite priest' is 'the priest, the son of Aaron'.

⁴⁰ For this verse, here following the NRSV, the NJB reads, "For these rooms are where the Israelites and the Levites are to bring the contributions of corn, wine, and oil, and where the vessels of the sanctuary are, and the officiating priests, the gatekeepers and the singers. We will no longer neglect the Temple of our God."

³ These are the leaders of the province who lived in Jerusalem; but in the towns of Judah all lived on their property in their towns: Israel, the priests, the Levites, the temple servants, and the sons of Solomon's servants. ⁴ Of the Judahites and the Benjaminites who lived in Jerusalem there were: of the Judahites: Athaiah son of Uziah, son of Zechariah, son of Amariah, son of Shephatiah, son of Mahalalel, of the sons of Perez; ⁵ and Maaseiah son of Baruch, son of Col-Hozeh, son of Hazaiah, son of Adaiah, son of Joiarib, son of Zechariah, sons of the Shilonite.

NEHEMIAH 11

- ¹ The name 'holy city' is given to Jerusalem in Is 48:2, 52:1 (see Ne 11:18, Tb 13:9, Dn 9:24, Mt 4:5, 27:53, Rv 11:2) but the notion itself is older (see #2S 5:9). The literal translation of 'nine tenths', here following the NRSV, is 'nine hands'.
- ² For this verse, here following the NJB, the NRSV reads, "And the people blessed all those who willingly offered to live in Jerusalem," and NETB reads, "The people gave their blessing on all the men who volunteered to settle in Jerusalem."
- ³ The NJB rearranges this verse as follows: "In the towns of Judah, each man lived on his own property, but these are the provincial leaders, the Israelites, the priests, the Levites, the temple slaves and the descendants of Solomon's slaves, who made their homes in Jerusalem;" here, we follow the NRSV. NETB reads, "These are the heads of the province who settled in Jerusalem. While Israel, the priests, the Levites, the temple attendants, and the sons of the servants of Solomon settled in the cities of Judah, each on his own property in their cities."
- ⁴ This list, on which 1Ch 9:1-18 depends, appears to give the state of the population of Jerusalem a generation or more after Nehemiah.
- ⁵ The NJB has the conjectural 'Shelah' (מִן־הַשְּׁלֹנִי) in place of 'the Shilonite' (בֶּן־הַשְּׁלֹנִי - see Nb 26:20).

⁶ The sum total of the sons of Perez living in Jerusalem was four hundred and sixty-eight valiant people.

⁸ and after him Gabbai and Sallai: nine hundred and twenty-eight. ⁹ Joel son of Zichri was their chief, and Judah son of Hassenuah was second in command of the city.

¹⁰ Of the priests: Jedaiah son of Joiarib, Jachin, ¹¹ Seraiah, son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, the chief of the Temple of God, ¹² and their associates who did the Temple work: eight hundred and twenty-two; Adaiah son of Jehoram, son of Pelaliah, son of Amzi, son of Zechariah, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah, ¹³ and his associates, heads of families: two hundred and forty-two; and Amashai son of Azarel, son of Ahzai, son of Meshillemoth, son of Immer, ¹⁴ and his kinsfolk, outstanding people: one hundred and twenty-eight. Their chief was Zabdiel son of Haggadolim.

⁶ The literal translation of 'sum total' is simply 'all'.

⁷ The NJB has 'sons of Benjamin' in place of 'Benjaminites' (here following the NRSV) and has similar substitutions throughout this section.

⁸ In place of 'and after him' (וְאַחֲרָיו), the NJB has the conjectural 'and his brothers' (וְאַחָיו).

⁹ The NRSV has 'second in charge' in place of 'second in command', here following the NJB & NETB.

¹⁰ After 'priests', the NJB adds 'there were'; here, we follow the MT & NRSV.

¹¹ 'Chief of the Temple of God' was a title of the High Priest.

¹² The literal translation of 'associates', here following the NRSV, is 'brothers'.

¹³ The literal translation of 'heads of families' is 'heads of fathers'.

¹⁴ The NJB has 'Haggadol' in place of 'Haggadolim', here following the MT (הַגְּדוֹלִים) & NRSV.

¹⁵ And of the Levites: Shemaiah son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, son of Bunni; ¹⁶ Shabbethai and Jozabad, leaders of the Levites over work outside the Temple of God; ¹⁷ Mattaniah son of Mica, son of Zabdi, son of Asaph, who led the beginning of the thanksgiving in prayer, Bakbukiah being his junior colleague; and Obadiah son of Shammua, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun. ¹⁸ The sum total of Levites in the holy city was two hundred and eighty-four.

²² The overseer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi son of Bani, son of Hashabiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers, in charge of the work in the Temple of God; ²³ for they were ¹⁵ After 'Levites', the NJB adds 'there were'; here, we follow the MT & NRSV.

¹⁶ The literal translation of 'leaders' is 'who were the heads'.

¹⁷ The NJB, following Lucian, has 'praises' in place of 'beginning', reading התחלה for the MT התחלה. The LXX (at least, the major MSS thereof) omits the words 'son of Zabdi ... his junior colleague'. The Kethib/Qere difference here may be due to a scribe misreading a vav as a yod.

¹⁸ The literal translation of 'sum total' is simply 'all'.

¹⁹ The literal translation of 'associates', here following the NRSV, is 'brothers'.

²⁰ The NJB transposes this verse to follow v. 24.

²¹ The note on the temple slaves (v. 21) is perhaps contemporary with the preceding list; the note on Uzzi (vv. 22-23) is later.

²² In place of 'the singers, in charge of the work in', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'who led the singing in the liturgy of'.

²³ The literal translation of 'they were under royal orders' is 'the commandment of the king was over them'.

²⁴ Pethahiah son of Meshezabel, of the sons of Zerah son of Judah, was Arba and its towns, Dibon and its towns, Jekabzeel and its towns,

Bethel and its towns, ³² Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, ³³ Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim, ³⁴ Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat, ³⁵ Lod, and Ono, the Valley of ²⁴ The phrase, 'at the king's hand', means that 'Pethahiah' was one of the Persian monarch's famous 'eyes', reporting on Judaeen affairs.

²⁵ The LXX rendering for 'Kiriath-Arba' (קִרְיַת הָאֲרָבַע) is Καριαθαβωα; the major MSS thereof do not include 'Dibon' (דִּיבֹן) & 'Jekabzeel' (יְקִבְצֵאל).

²⁶ The LXX rendering for 'Jeshua' (יֵשׁוּעַ) is Ιησους; the major MSS thereof do not include 'Moladah' (מְלָדָה) & 'Beth-Pelet' (בֵּית פֶּלֶט).

²⁷ The LXX rendering for 'Beersheba' (בְּאֵר שֶׁבַע) is Βεηρσαβεε; the major MSS thereof do not include 'Hazar-Shual' (חֲצֵר שׁוּעַל).

²⁸ The major MSS of the LXX do not include this verse.

²⁹ The major MSS of the LXX do not include this verse.

³⁰ The LXX rendering for 'Lachish' (לְכִישׁ) is Λακισ; the major MSS thereof do not include 'Zanoah' (זֶנַח), 'Adullam' (עַדְלָם), & 'Azekah' (עֲזָקָה).

³¹ The NJB, following the Peshitta, opens this verse with, "Some Benjaminites made their homes in Geba;" here, we follow the MT & NRSV. The LXX renderings of 'Geba' (גִּבְעָה) & 'Michmash' (מִכְמָשׁ) are, respectively, Γαβα & Μαχμας; the major LXX MSS do not include the text from 'Aija' through to the beginning of v. 36.

³² The LXX renderings (in only a limited number of MSS) for 'Anathoth' (עֲנַתּוֹת), 'Nob' (נֹב) & 'Ananiah' (עֲנַנְיָה) are, Αναθωθ, Νοβ, & Ανια.

³³ The LXX renderings (in only a limited number of MSS) for 'Hazor' (חֲצוֹר), 'Ramah' (רְמָה) & 'Gittaim' (גִּתַּיִם) are, Ασωθ, Ραμα, & Γεθταιμ.

³⁴ The LXX renderings (in only a limited number of MSS) for 'Hadid' (חֲדִיד), 'Zeboim' (צִבְעִים) & 'Neballat' (נִבְלָט) are, Αδωδ, Ζεβωειμ, & Ναβαλατ.

- ¹ These names, absent from Ezr 2:36–39, are those of priestly families of the line of Joiakim, successor to Jeshua (see vv. 12–21).
- ² The LXX renderings for ‘Amariah’ (אמריה) & ‘Malluch’ (מלוך) are, respectively, Αμαρια & Μαλουχ; most MSS omit ‘Hattush’ (חטוש).
- ³ The LXX rendering of ‘Shecaniah’ (שכניה) is Σεχενια; the major MSS of the LXX omit the part of the list from ‘Rehum’ to ‘Jedaiah’ (v. 7).
- ⁴ The LXX renderings (in a few MSS) for ‘Iddo’, ‘Ginnethoi’ & ‘Abijah’ are, Αδαϊας, Γενεθων, & Αβιας; in place of ‘Ginnethoi’, the Vg reads Genthon.
- ⁵ The LXX renderings (in a few MSS) for ‘Mijamin’ (מימין), ‘Maadiah’ (מעדיה) & ‘Bilgah’ (בלגה) are, Μιαμειν, Μιααδιας, & Βελγας.
- ⁶ The LXX renderings (in a few m MSS ss) for ‘Shemaiah’ (שמעיה), ‘Joiarib’ (יורייב) & ‘Jedaiah’ (ידעיה) are, Σεμειας, Ιωιαρειβ, & Ιεδιας.
- ⁷ The LXX renderings (in a few MSS) for ‘Sallu’ (סלוי), ‘Amok’ (עמוק), ‘Hilkiah’ (חלקיה) & ‘Jedaiah’ (ידעיה) are, respectively, Σαλου, Αμουκ, Χελκειας, & Ωδουιας (for the last, cf. the same Hebrew name in v. 6).
- ⁸ The literal translation of ‘associates’ (following the NRSV & NETB) is ‘brothers’ (as NJB).
- ⁹ In place of וענו (‘Unno’), here following the Kethib (and NJB/NRSV), the Qere has ועני (‘Unni’).
- ¹⁰ Vv. 10–11 present a genealogical list of the High Priests from 520–405 BCE (Darius II).
- ¹¹ In vv. 10–11, the NRSV has ‘was the father of’ in place of ‘fathered’ (literally, ‘begat’), here following the NJB.

¹² In the days of Joiakim, the priests, the heads of the fathers' houses, were: family of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah; ¹³ of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan; ¹⁴ of Malluch, Jonathon; of Shebaniah, Joseph; ¹⁵ of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai; ¹⁶ of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam; ¹⁷ of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai; ¹⁸ of Bilgah, Shammua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan; ¹⁹ and of Joarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi; ²⁰ of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber; ²¹ of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel. ²² As for the Levites, in the time of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan and Jaddua, the heads of the families and the priests were registered, up to the reign of Darius the Persian.

²³ The Levites, heads of families, were listed in the Book of Chronicles ¹² Vv. 12–26 list the priests and Levites in the time of Joiakim (therefore, after 500 BCE).

¹³ In place of 'Jehohanan', here following the MT (יהוחנן), the LXX has Iowanav and the Vg has Johanan (cf. v. 11).

¹⁴ 'Malluch' follows the LXX (Μαλουχ) and Kethib (?); the Qere reads למליכו, which is reflected in the Vg (Milicho). In place of 'Shebaniah', here following the MT (שבניה), the LXX (Σεβανια) & Peshitta read 'Shecaniah' (cf. v. 3).

¹⁵ In place of 'Meraioth', here following the MT (מריות) & NRSV, the NJB & NETB, following the Peshitta & Lucian, have 'Meremoth'.

¹⁶ 'Iddo' follows the Qere (עדוא) and Peshitta, rather than the Ketiv (עדיא – 'Ayada'), which probably arose through orthographic confusion.

¹⁷ In place of 'Miniamin' (מנימין), here following the MT, many LXX MSS have 'Benjamin' (Βενιαμιν).

¹⁸ In place of 'Jehonathan', here following the MT (יהונתן), the LXX has Iwvathan, as does the Vg (Jonathan).

¹⁹ In place of 'Uzzi', here following the MT (עזי), the LXX has Ozi and the Vg has Azzi.

²⁰ NETB has the conjectural 'Sallu' (סלו, cf. v. 7) in place of 'Sallai', here following the MT (סלי), LXX (Σαλλαι), Vg (Sellai), NJB & NRSV.

²¹ For 'Hashabiah' (חשביה), the LXX reads Ασαβιας.

²² The NJB omits 'as for the Levites' and, after 'registered', adds 'in the Book of Chronicles' (see v. 23). 'Darius the Persian' is Darius II (died 405 BCE).

²³ The 'Book of Chronicles' was the official chronicle of the Temple – not to be confused with our canonical book(s).

up to the time of Jonathon, son of Eliashib. ²⁴ The heads of the Levites: Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Jeshua son of Kadmiel, while their brothers, close to them, to praise and give thanks, according to David, man of God, section opposite section, ²⁵ were Mattaniah, Bakbukiah and Obadiah. Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were gatekeepers guarding the stores at the gates. ²⁶ These were in the days of Joiakim son of Jeshua, son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest-scribe.

²⁷ At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, the Levites were sent for, wherever they lived, to come to Jerusalem to perform the dedication with rejoicing, thanksgiving and singing, with cymbals, lyres, and harps. ²⁸ Accordingly, the singers assembled from the district round Jerusalem, from the villages of the Netophathites, ²⁹ from Beth-Gilgal and from their farms at Geba and Azmaveth; for, the singers had built themselves villages all round Jerusalem; ³⁰ and the priests and Levites purified themselves, and they purified the people, the gates, and the ²⁴ In place of 'son of Kadmiel' (בֶּן־קַדְמִיאל) the NJB has the conjectural 'Binnui and Kadmiel'.

²⁵ Here, the singers and gatekeepers are merged with the Levites (see #11:17).

²⁶ The Chronicler represents Joiakim, Nehemiah and Ezra as contemporaries.

²⁷ Historically, the ceremony took place after 6:16, but the Chronicler matches Ezr 6:15-18; thus, two dedications conclude two epochs, one dominated by the figure of Zerubbabel, the other by Ezra and Nehemiah.

²⁸ The NJB has 'Levitical' before 'singers'. The 'Netophathites' were from southwest of Jerusalem (1Ch 9:16, Ezr 2:22).

²⁹ The major MSS of the LXX lack the references to 'Beth-Gilgal', 'Geba' and 'Azmaveth'.

³⁰ The NJB & NETB reconstruct this verse (here following the NRSV) as follows: "When the priests and Levites had purified themselves, they then purified the people, the gates and the wall."

wall. ³¹ I then made the leaders of Judah come on to the top of the wall and appointed two large choirs that gave thanks and went in procession. One went to the right, towards the Dung Gate; ³² and after them went Hoshaiah and half the leaders of Judah, ³³ and also Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam, ³⁴ Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah.

The scribe Ezra walked at their head. ³⁷ At the Fountain Gate, they went straight on up the steps of the City of David, on the ascent of the wall above the Palace of David, to the Water Gate, on the east.

³⁸ The second choir was proceeding in the opposite direction, and I followed them with half the people along the top of the wall from the Tower of the Furnaces to the Broad Wall, ³⁹ from the Ephraim Gate and ³¹ The literal translation of 'and went in procession' is simply 'and processions'.

³² The NJB opens this verse, here following the NRSV, with "bringing up the rear were..."

³³ For 'Ezra' (עֶזְרָא), the LXX reads Εσδρας and the Vg reads Esdras.

³⁴ The Vg includes this as part of v. 33.

³⁵ The 1st part of this verse should probably be read with vv. 33–34; here, we follow the section breaks of the MT.

³⁶ The references to Ezra here and in v. 33 are editorial insertions.

³⁷ In place of 'on the ascent', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'up the stairway'.

³⁸ The translation, following NETB, reads הִהְלַכְתָּ ('was proceeding') rather than the MT הִהְלַכְתָּ ('the one proceeding'); the MT probably reflects dittography – accidental writing of ה twice instead of once.

³⁹ The NJB omits 'and the Old Gate'.

the Old Gate, the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel and the Tower of the Hundred as far as the Sheep Gate, and they came to a halt at the Prison Gate. ⁴⁰ The two choirs then took their places in the Temple of God, but I had half the magistrates with me ⁴¹ as well as the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah with the trumpets, ⁴² and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam and Ezer. The singers sang loudly under the direction of Jezrahiah. ⁴³ There were great sacrifices offered that day and the people rejoiced, God having given them good cause for rejoicing; the women and children rejoiced too, and the joy of Jerusalem could be heard from far away.

⁴⁴ On that day, men were appointed over the rooms for the treasures, for the contributions, for the first fruits and for the tithes, to collect in them the portions from the fields of the cities awarded by the Law to the priests and Levites. For Judah rejoiced in the officiating priests and Levites. ⁴⁵ They performed the liturgy of their God and the rites of ⁴⁰ The literal translation of 'took their places' is 'stood'.

⁴¹ The LXX renderings for 'Eliakim' (אֱלִיָּקִים), 'Maaseiah' (מַעֲשִׂיָּה), 'Miniamin' (מְנִימִין), 'Micaiah' (מִיכָיָה), 'Elioenai' (אֱלִיֹּעֲנַי), 'Zechariah' (זְכַרְיָה) & 'Hananiah' (חֲנַנְיָה) are, respectively, Ελιακιμ, Μασιας, Βενιαμιν, Μιχαιας, Ελιοηναι, Ζαχαριας & Ανανιας.

⁴² In place of 'Uzzi', here following the MT (עֻזִּי), the LXX has Οζι and the Vg has Azzi (see #19) and, in place of 'Jehonathan', here following the MT (יְהוֹנָתָן), the LXX has Ιωναθαν, as does the Vg (see #18).

⁴³ A more literal translation of 'God having given them good cause for rejoicing' (as NJB) is 'for God had made them rejoice with great joy' (as NRSV).

⁴⁴ This idealised picture of the community under the governorships of Zerubbabel and Nehemiah is perhaps intended to reduce the impact of the abuses related in 13:4ff. The translation reads מִשְׁדֵּי ('from the fields') rather than the MT reading לְשָׂדֵי ('to the fields').

⁴⁵ The conjunction 'and' before 'Solomon' is absent from the Leningrad & Aleppo Codices (שְׁלֹמֹה) but is present in many medieval Hebrew MSS.

purification, as did the singers and gatekeepers, as ordained by David and Solomon, his son. ⁴⁶ For, long ago, in the days of David and Asaph, there were leaders of the singers and hymns of praise and thanksgiving to God. ⁴⁷ In the days of Zerubbabel and Nehemiah, all Israel supplied regular daily portions for the singers and gatekeepers, and set apart contributions to the Levites; and the Levites set apart contributions to the Aaronites.

⁴⁶ The translation, 'leaders', follows the Qere; the Kethib has 'a leader'.

⁴⁷ The literal translation of 'set apart' (here following the NRSV) is 'were sanctifying'.

NEHEMIAH 13

¹ On that day, they read to the people from the Book of Moses, and they found written in it: "No Ammonite or Moabite is ever to be admitted to the assembly of God, ² because they did not come to meet the Israelites with bread and water, and even hired Balaam to oppose them by cursing them; but our God turned the curse into a blessing." ³ When the people heard the Law, they separated from Israel all those of foreign descent. ⁴ Earlier, Eliashib the priest, who was in charge of the rooms of the Temple of our God, and who was close to Tobiah, ⁵ had provided him with a large room where they previously put the meal offerings, incense, utensils, tithes of corn, wine and oil prescribed for the Levites, singers and gatekeepers, and the contributions for the priests. ⁶ While all this was going on, I was away from Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, I had gone to see the king. But, after some time, I asked leave of the king, ⁷ and returned to Jerusalem, where I discovered the crime that Eliashib had committed

¹ Vv. 1-3 are introductory, to connect with 8:18.

² In place of the pronouns, 'they' and 'them', the MT has the singular (as in Dt 23:7).

³ This severity goes beyond the requirements of the Law (see Dt 23:7-9).

⁴ This 'Eliashib' is not the High Priest of the same name (though a study note in the Oxford NRSV presumes that he is).

⁵ In place of 'put', here following the NRSV, the MT has 'gave'.

⁶ Nehemiah's first governorship had lasted from 445 to 433 BCE.

⁷ In place of 'for Tobiah', here following NETB, the NJB has 'for Tobiah's benefit' and the NRSV has 'on Tobiah's behalf'.

for Tobiah, providing him with a room in the courts of the Temple of God. ⁸ I was extremely displeased and threw all Tobiah's household goods out of the room. ⁹ I then gave orders for the room to be purified, and had the utensils of the Temple of God, the meal offerings and the incense all replaced.

¹⁰ I learned that the portions for the Levites had not been given, so that the Levites and singers who performed the liturgy had fled to their fields. ¹¹ I then reprimanded the officials and said, "Why is the house of God deserted?" I gathered them together and set them in their place; ¹² and all Judah then delivered the tithe of corn, wine, and oil to the storehouses. ¹³ I made treasurers of the storehouses: Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, Pedaiah of the Levites and, next to them, Hanan son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah; for, they were counted faithful and their duty was to distribute to their brothers.

¹⁴ Remember me for this, my God, and do not blot out the good deeds that I have done for the Temple of my God and his service! ¹⁵ In those days, I saw people in Judah treading the winepress, bringing in sacks of ⁸ At the end of this verse, the NJB adds 'and into the street'.

⁹ The fact that Nehemiah 'gave orders' proves that his return was with royal authority.

¹⁰ In place of 'portions', here following the NRSV, NETB has 'grain offerings'.

¹¹ The literal translation of 'set them in their place' (as WEBBE) is 'stood them on their standing'.

¹² NETB adds 'new' before 'wine' and 'olive' before 'oil'; here, we follow the MT, NJB & NRSV.

¹³ The NJB, following the LXX (καὶ ἐνετειλαμην ἐπὶ χεῖρα, 'and I gave charge unto the hand') & Peshitta, has 'supervisors' in place of 'treasurers'.

¹⁴ Alternative readings for 'his service' (as NRSV) are 'its services' (as NETB) and 'its observances' (as NJB).

¹⁵ The NJB ends this verse, here following the NRSV, with, "... so I forbade them to sell the food."

grain and loading donkeys on the Sabbath; they were also bringing wine, grapes, figs, and every kind of merchandise into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, so I warned them at that time against selling food. ¹⁶ Tyrians living there were bringing in fish and every kind of merchandise, which they were selling to the Judaeans on the Sabbath in Jerusalem, ¹⁷ so I reprimanded the nobles of Judah, saying to them, "What a wicked way to behave, profaning the Sabbath day! ¹⁸ Did not your ancestors act in this way, causing our God to bring all this misery down on us and on this city? Now, you are adding to the wrath hanging over Israel by profaning the Sabbath yourselves!"

¹⁹ When the gates of Jerusalem grew dark before the Sabbath, I ordered the doors to be shut and directed that they were not to be opened until after the Sabbath. I stationed some of my attendants at the gates to make sure that no load was brought in on the Sabbath day. ²⁰ So, the traders and dealers in goods of all kinds spent the night outside Jerusalem once or twice, ²¹ until I reprimanded them. I said to them, "Why do you spend the night in front of the wall? Do it again, and I shall use force on you." After this, they did not come on the Sabbath.

¹⁶ At the end of this verse, the NJB, for emphasis, adds 'itself' and NETB adds 'of all places'; here, we follow the MT & NRSV.

¹⁷ In place of 'nobles', here following the NRSV & NETB, the NJB has 'leading men'.

¹⁸ The literal translation of 'ancestors' is 'fathers'.

¹⁹ Shutting the gates prevented produce from entering the city, a restriction that the merchants sought to nullify by trading outside the walls.

²⁰ In place of 'dealers in goods of all kinds', here following the NJB, the NRSV & NETB have 'sellers of all kinds of merchandise'.

²¹ This verse contains a great deal of restrained humour: the author clearly takes pleasure in the effectiveness of the measures that he had enacted.

²² I then ordered the Levites to purify themselves and act as guards at the gates, so that the Sabbath day might be kept holy. Remember this also to my credit, have pity on me in the greatness of your faithful love.

²³ In those days, too, I saw Jews who had married wives from Ashdod, from Ammon, and from Moab; ²⁴ and half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod, or the language of various peoples, but could not speak the language of Judah. ²⁵ I reprimanded them, cursed them, struck some of them and tore out their hair, and I made them take an oath in the name of God, "You are not to give your daughters to their sons nor take their daughters for your sons, or for yourselves!" ²⁶ Did not Solomon king of Israel sin because of such women? Among many nations, there was no king like him, and he was loved by his God, and God made him king of all Israel; nevertheless, foreign women led him into sin! ²⁷ Shall we then listen to you and do all this great evil and act treacherously against our God by marrying foreign women?" ²⁸ One of the sons of ²² Many English translations, including the NJB & NETB, have a paragraph break before 'remember'; here, we follow the MT (& NRSV).

²³ The Kethib/Qere differences here would benefit from explanation.

²⁴ The 'language of Ashdod' was probably an Aramaic dialect; Aramaic was the accepted language (see 8:8) but Nehemiah did not wish Hebrew to be forgotten.

²⁵ Such physical violence is common in Oriental history.

²⁶ The literal translation of 'God made him' is 'God gave him'.

²⁷ For this verse, here following the NRSV, the NJB reads, "Were you obedient when you committed this very grave crime: breaking faith with our God by marrying foreign wives?"

²⁸ In place of 'I chased him away from me', here following the NRSV, the NJB has 'I drove him from my presence' and NETB has 'I banished him from my sight'.

Jehoiada, the son of Eliashib the High Priest, was a son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite; so, I chased him away from me. ²⁹ Remember them, my God, for defiling the priesthood, the covenant of the priests and Levites! ³⁰ Thus, I purged them of everything foreign; I established duties of the priests and Levites, each in his work, ³¹ and for the wood offering at the proper times, and for the first fruits. Remember this, my God, to my credit!

²⁹ 'Priests' follows one medieval Hebrew MS (הַכֹּהֲנִים), Lucian, Peshitta, NJB & NRSV, rather than the singular reading of the MT, הַכֹּהֲנָה ('the priesthood').

³⁰ The literal translation of 'each in his work' is 'a man in his work'.

³¹ Before 'for the wood', the NRSV & NETB add, for clarity, 'I provided', though these words are not in the MT.
